

palette manager 2.0

Automatically Organize Your Palettes

The Palette Manager for InDesign makes your work faster and more efficient by putting the right palettes right where they're needed, automatically. Click on a text frame, and a user defined set of palettes shows up, exactly where they're you want them around the text frame or document window. Move the text frames or document window, and the palettes follow right along.

The Palette Manager will revolutionize the way you work in InDesign. Suddenly, you won't have to worry about moving palettes around anymore – you just do your work, and the palettes appear where you need them to be. Featuring a simple interface for defining palette sets, the Palette Manager takes only a few minutes to set up and then you don't have to think about it again.

Download demo / purchase: www.teacupsoftware.com

Before: Nothing is selected.

After: Palettes automatically group around selection.

FEATURES

> Intelligent

Detects what type of page object is being worked on and automatically moves relevant palettes around that object.

> Fully customizable

Users can define which palettes appear for each object type and where they are placed.

> Versatile

Palette sets can be defined for graphic frames, text boxes, splines, and more.

> Seamless

Once the palette sets are defined, the palette manager doesn't require any work at all.